The Problem

A fast expanding on-line client were faced with relocating staff from the UK and current overseas postings to destinations including Russia, the USA, South America and throughout Europe. The fast rate of expansion meant our client was encountering new relocation problems daily.

The Clearview Solution.

We quickly established the client needed help with all aspects of the relocation process, including consultancy in developing their relocation policy and calculating suitable housing allowances for each destination.

In the relocation process itself, we assist in immigration, home-finding, removals and settling in. We also work with them on the unique challenges of visa applications of some of their chosen destinations.

Central management and reporting

To provide a responsive and effective management as new situations arise in their fast paced expansion, we run the account from our head office, with the reassurance of a single point of informed contact.

The Outcome

By providing advice as well as managing the physical process of relocation we became part of the back office support team of this go ahead, can do company. We
